LONG-CUNNINGHAM.

A wedding that was quite a surprise was that of W. W. Long, whose home is Collinsville, Ill., and Miss Ruth Ellen Cunningham of Caruthersville, on Saturday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Cunningham.

The ceremony was performed in the large reception hall by Rev. E. H. Orear at 7:30 o'clock. No attendants. The bride and groom descended the stairs and were met by Rev. Orear, who pronounced a very impressive ring service.

After congratulations were extended, Mrs. Cunningham invited all into the dining room, where a most delicious cafeteria luncheon was served.

The bride is one of Caruthersville's most talented and delightful young ladies and is loved and appreciated by the younger set. The groom, Mr. Long, is an electrical engineer at the light plant, and is looked upon as a very efficient man, and is also well and favorably known in that city. They left on the night train for St. Louis, where they will spend several days, then going to Mr. Long's home at Collinsville, Ill. They will return about the first of February and will make their home in Caruthersville, where they will be at home to their many friends.

Not Candidate for Governor.

Washington D. C.—Representative Joseph J. Russell of Missouri, has decided not to enter the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. Judge Russell has not been an avowed candidate at any time, but has been urged by his friends and has really given some favorable consideration to the idea at times. Recently as he left Speaker Clark's office, Russell, in reply to a question concerning Clark's letter to State Chairman McClung, said he thought the speaker had done the proper thing.

"How about yourself?" he was asked.

"Well the folks down in my district have impressed on me that they think I should remain in the district. They seem to think I can come nearer carrying the district and retaining it in the Democratic column than most any one else, and I have decided to take their advice."

Speaker Clark is happy now. He seems to feel that he has put a stop to the propaganda in his behalf and would not be further annoyed in that direction.

"It is not a matter of sacrifice," he said in response to a suggestion of a colleague. "The fact is, some of these men who are candidates have been running for two or three years and every one of them thinks he is going to win. It would not be fair to go into the race against them, even if I had the slightest inclination to do so, which I have not."

Turning to Representative Russell, who was present at this conversation, Speaker Clark said: "You know, Joe, the first time the governorship was ever mentioned to me was when you were speaker of the Missouri House, and Dave Francis was sworn in at a joint session of the Legislature. Mrs. Gamble sat alongside of me and she asked: When will you take the oath as governor? "I answered that I had no ambition to be governor, and I have never changed my mind."

David Smitherman a Hayti boy who has went out into the world and made good, is here on a visit to his mother, Mrs. M. M. Smitherman. Dave is agent and operator at Murry, Iowa. Quite a number of the boys of Hayti have gone out into the world and are making good.

Miss Myrtle Robertson, who has been visiting relatives and friends at Paris, Tennessee, for the past month returned home Saturday night. Miss Robertson met several of her relatives whom she had never seen before, and states that she greatly enjoyed her visit.

Special Agent Dennis Green reports that 12,425 bales of cotton have been ginned in Pemiscot county up to January 1, 1916 as compared to 20,282 for the same date in 1915.

C. W. Tull, who has been visiting relatives in Tennessee for the past ten days, is reported to be very ill in that state, being affected with pneumonia.

When you feel blue and the world seems to give you a sour, downcast look don't blame other people, but kick yourself. It's you, not the people, that's wrong.

Arthur Pool, who is connected with the J. H. Pool store at Concord, was in town Tuesday after a load of freight and attended to other business matters.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By W. H. JOHNSON, Superintendent.

The teachers' meeting at Portageville last Saturday was not very well attended, but the weather may be assigned as the cause. Notwithstanding the crowd was small, the meeting was a very interesting one. A larger attendance should be had at these meetings, if possible, or they will fail to accomplish the purpose for which they were established.

Charles Wood, who is teaching Black Island school, has dismissed on account of high water. His school is between the river and levee. Charles is taking high school work with us during his vacation.

"Brother Josiah," the interesting society comedy-drama, will be given by the High School at the Dorris Theatre Thursday night, February 3. Be sure to see this entertainment.

Miss Wirsching writes that she will be back home the latter part of this week. We are glad to know that Miss Wirsching has gotten along so well and is now able to get out; however, she will not resume her work as teacher until about February 1.

Lilbourn high school girls, the team that played our girls so close last year, will play our team here Thursday night. You cannot afford to miss this game.

Last Friday night our boys opened the basket ball season here by defeating Senath high school boys by the snug score of 28 to 7.

The game went off nicely, no roughing it or disputes of any kind. The visitors were entirely satisfied with the management of the game. The Senath team was composed of an exceptionally nice bunch of boys so far as our dealings with them were concerned. Mr. Hutchins, their coach, was very fair in his work with us. We enjoy a game of this type. Why not have more of them?

I cannot close this comment without a word for the boys on the home team. These boys, four of them, have played, counting this season, for four years, and all have attained the size, which, coupled with the practice they have had, gives us a team of which, I think, we should feel proud. These boys have had the determination to develop a team and have worked long and faithful to develop the ability they now show, and I think we owe it to these boys to offer them every encouragement at our command. Get behind the home team and push.

Roy Bramley, one of the loyal Frisco employees, and little son, Harold, left for Traskwood, Ark., Wednesday afternoon for a week or ten day's visit with Mr. Bramley's father, G. W. Bramley. While there he will also look after some land matters.

The man who would have friends must be a friend. Friendship is from the heart, and deceit is of a malicious brain.

W. P. Meatte left Monday morning for New Madrid where he had business before the county court of that county.

Henry Tanner, a good farmer of the Foust neighborhood, was attending to business in town Wednesday.

To Delinquent Subscribers.

Gee! It's sure cold, and this weather makes us think what we did with our last year's wages. Did you know that editors have to eat and sometimes get cold? Well, while we are on the subject, we make you a proposition. You owe us—it takes money to buy wood and things to eat. Now, let's put two and two together and square the deal. We will take wood, eggs, butter, meat, chickens or other farm products in payment for that back subscription or renewal. Now, what say you? Isn't that a fair offer?

Word has been received that Elmer Stephens, who was operated on in St. Luke's hospital at St. Louis last week for appendicitis, is getting along nicely, and his recovery is likely to be speedy.

CAR OF AUTOMOBILES.

F. M. Perkins, our wide awake hardware dealer, also agent for the Grant Six automobile, is going to make the automobile business in this county hum this year with gas—that is, gas from the Grant Six. He received a car load of these automobiles Saturday, and unloaded them Monday. Among the parties purchasing autos were J. W. Gaither, one of our most progressive farmers, and John T. Buckley, one of our best merchants. We did not learn who purchased the other automobiles, but understand that they are sold. But Frank Perkins says the factory has a few more of these excellent cars left and you had better get that order to him immediately.

W. E. Carr, one of the progressive farmers near this city continues to keep his name on our honor roll by renewing his subscription.

H. L. Stanley, the piano man of Campbell, was in this city Monday looking after his extensive piano business.

Progressive Pharmacy

is practiced at our store. Great progress is being made in medical science and new remedies are constantly being discovered.

Many of these are important and are often prescribed by physicians. This creates new problems for the pharmacist and renders it more essential that prescriptions should be compounded by those only who are entirely competent. We always have these newer remedies on hand and allcompounding at our store is done by skilled pharmacists.

Notwithstanding the superior character of our service, our prices are always reasonable.
